Lessons From Pat Summitt

I've already mentioned several times that I am a big basketball fan. I'm sure many of you have heard about the passing of Pat Summitt. For those of you who do not know, Pat Summitt coached the women's basketball team at the University of Tennessee. While I must admit I do not watch a lot of women's basketball, any fan of basketball can tell you that she is a basketball legend. All of the sports programs have been talking about her this week, and I have noticed several great quotes from Coach Summitt. I would like to share a couple of them now. While they do not come from the Bible, they contain Biblical principles within them.

“Attitude is a choice. Think positive thoughts daily.
Believe in yourself.”

This is a quote that hits close to home for me. I like to think of myself as a positive person, but there are some days when being positive is tough. Everyone has those days where nothing seems to be going right. It is easy to have a negative attitude during times like these. That negative attitude can have an effect on every part of your life, and it is almost impossible to hide your negativity from those around you. It is easy to look around at all of the negative things in our lives and blame our negative attitude on the world we live in. We have to deal with so much because of our faith, and it weighs us down. However, 1 Peter 4:12-13 says, “Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery trial when it comes upon you to test you, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice insofar as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed.” Peter tells us to rejoice when we share in Christ's sufferings, but many of us act as if we cannot rejoice when we go through the smallest of trials. When we are constantly being negative about everything, we are not giving God the thanks he deserves for blessing us in so many ways.

“Admit to and make yourself accountable for mistakes.
How can you improve if you're never wrong?”

I'm a college guy, so I know that I've made a lot of mistakes in my life. However, I'm also a college guy, so I hate to admit when I have made a mistake. I don't have the time to write out all of the mistakes I have made, but I can tell you that I've made a lot of them. Even though we can recognize all the mistakes we've made, we hate admitting we've made a mistake. However, when we try to hide our mistakes or act like they don't happen, we are setting ourselves up to make the same mistake again. We must learn from our mistakes and the only way we can do that is by first admitting we have made a mistake. I am reminded of David, who made mistakes over and over again, but he was willing to admit his mistakes and learn from them. In Psalms 51: 2-3, David says, “Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin! For I know my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me.” If we truly want to learn from our mistakes, we need to have the same attitude that David had when we sin.

There are probably many of you who do not care about basketball, but these quotes apply to so much more than a game. As Christians, our attitude and our ability to hold ourselves accountable are so important. Our attitude can have an effect on every aspect of our life. When we make mistakes, we must be willing to make the changes we need in order to improve. These may seem like difficult tasks, but they are so crucial for our spiritual walk.
