Eve — The Mother of All Living
Genesis 3:20

Eve's story begins with sin but ends with promise.

God entrusted her with the first children and the first prophecy of redemption.

Her life teaches that motherhood is part of God's plan to bring life and hope into a broken world.

Mothers today carry the same calling—to bring life, hope, and faith into a world that desperately needs it.

3

Sarah — The Mother Who Laughed
Genesis 18:12–14; 21:1–7

Sarah waited decades for God's promise.

She laughed in disbelief, then laughed in joy.

Her motherhood was a testimony that nothing is too hard for the Lord.

Mothers who wait, pray, and persevere show the world what trust in God looks like.

4

Jochebed — The Courageous Mother
Exodus 2:1–10

Jochebed protected Moses at great personal risk.

She used wisdom, creativity, and faith to save her child.

Her courage preserved the life of the man God used to deliver Israel.

Mothers today fight spiritual battles for their children—protecting, guiding, and shaping them with courage and conviction.

5

Mary — The Mother Who Surrendered to God
Luke 1:26–38

Mary accepted God’s calling with courage: “Let it be to me according to your word.”

She raised Jesus with devotion and endured the pain of His suffering.

Her life shows the cost and beauty of godly motherhood.

Mothers who surrender their children to God’s purposes find strength in His grace.

Other Mothers

Hannah — The Praying Mother — 1 Samuel 1–2
God hears the prayers of a mother's heart.

Naomi — The Faithful Mother-in-Law — Ruth 1–4
God uses spiritual motherhood as powerfully as biological motherhood.

Lois & Eunice — The Mothers Who Passed Down Faith —
2 Timothy 1:5; 3:14–15
Faith is often first learned at home.

Closing Thoughts

Biblical mothers were not perfect—but they were faithful.

Through them, God shaped nations, raised leaders, preserved His people, and brought the Savior into the world.

We honor mothers not because it's a holiday but because it is biblical, right, and good.

We thank God for the women who shaped us, prayed for us, corrected us, and loved us.
