The blood of Jesus Christ is at the very heart of the gospel.

From Genesis to Revelation, Scripture points us toward the necessity and power of blood in God's plan of redemption.

Under the Old Testament, animal sacrifices provided a temporary covering for sin. But the blood of Christ accomplished what the blood of animals never could.

The question is not whether Christ's blood has power, it does.
The question is whether we will come to Christ and receive the blessings made possible through His blood.
